Anglo-Italian Pact Brings Anglo-French Relations Foreground

CONTACTS FOR DIPLOMACY TO BE CORRECTED

Daladier Cabinet Reflects Improved Tendency Towards Italy

By JEAN ALARY
Copyright, 1938 by Jean Alary
PARIS, April 12.—(Press) An Anglo-Italian pact will be signed this week, though the position of Anglo-French relations abruptly into the foreground in Paris last night.

Normalization of diplomatic contacts was seen as the first question to be attacked. The French embassy in Rome is conducted by the charge d'affaires, Jules Bludet, due to France's refusal to accredit an ambassador to Victor Emmanuel, King of Italy and "Emperor of Ethiopia." The Italian embassy here is similarly conducted by a charge d'affaires.

Premier Edouard Daladier's new cabinet is seen as reflecting a tendency toward improved relations with Italy containing such elements as the development of Camille Chautauque, vice-premier, and Georges Bonnet, who before appointment as foreign minister was mentioned as a possible new ambassador to Rome.

Belief in improvement of relations with Italy is on the new cabinet's program was attested by a statement made by Jean Marter, radical-socialist president of the Chamber of Deputies and member of the committee, in an interview.

"I consider that in Europe's present situation, French-Italian friendship is the natural and indispensable complement of Anglo-French relations," Marter said.

Private Sanitarium Fills Valued Place in Community, Doctor Says

STAFF MEDIC TESTIFIES TO ROYAL INQUIRY

Government Could Maintain Institution for Mildly Insane, Claim

GUELPH, Ont., April 12.—A private sanitarium fills a valued place in the community, Dr. F. H. C. Baugh, of the staff of Home-wood sanitarium here told a royal commission inquiry into the institution's affairs Monday.

A government could not possibly maintain an institution for mildly insane persons and most of the inmates of public mental hospitals in Canada were dependent on the margin of dependency.

CLOSELY QUESTIONED

Dr. Baugh was on the witness stand for the day before F. N. Bland, K.C., royal commissioner, and was closely questioned about the case of Angus McIntosh, wealthy Montreal resident, who had alleged he was wrongly detained in the sanitarium and blamed Dr. Baugh for his confinement.

McIntosh was decidedly mentally ill when he was admitted, said Dr. Baugh. He was restless and drew his finger nails. In his room a chair was smashed. He had disturbed other patients.

Personally he had no feeling toward McIntosh except that of a doctor towards a difficult case. He regarded the patient's grievance against himself as one of the characteristics of the disease, diagnosed as paranoia.

"Do you know that Ontario and Quebec courts say that in law at least Mr. McIntosh is a sane man?" Dr. Baugh was asked.

DIMINISHED TREATMENT

The doctor denied McIntosh was worse treated after he had received the verdict of the court than before. He said that his privileges had been taken away. He said that his treatment was restricted only because visitors disturbed him and he was not aware of a Hamilton lawyer had secured access to the sanitarium.

Asked by C. L. Snyder, commission counsel, why William Roche of Halifax had been held a year and two months longer than his contract called for, Dr. Baugh said he assumed it was because the superintendent felt he had a responsibility towards authorities in Halifax.

HOUSING ACT LOANS DOUBLE

OTTAWA, April 12.—March was a record month for operations under the Dominion Housing Act, with a total of $1,819,479 being borrowed to provide accommodation for 328 families. These figures were more than double those for March last year.

Alberta remains the only province in which no advantage has been taken of provisions of the act whereby registered lending institutions co-operate with the Dominion government in facilitating the granting of home-building loans at low interest and easy repayment terms.

MONEY REFORM GREAT AID TO NEW ZEALAND

duty of every lover of freedom to fight that hydra-headed monster, revolutionary Socialism, which seeks to debate our independence of spirit, rob us of our freedom, and finally reduce us all to one dead level of mediocrity.

"I don't want what these people who criticize monetary reform mean. Do they want to perpetuate the past? Do they wish to give suffering statutory protection? Do they want invalids to continue to beg for bread the way they did ere we gave them a pension?"

"These critics are not statesmen. They are the upholders of reaction."

"There is only one way," Mr. Nash fervently continued, "in which the freedom we are entitled to can come, and that is by ordering the provisions of the things that are necessary that everybody willing to work gets his share of them."

"Then freedom will be that which is worth having. Unemployed people cannot have freedom. There is no freedom for the individual if he has to depend on somebody else to give him something which ought to be his by right."

"People who are opposed to, reform of social abuses, prate about the need of preserving personal freedom. The stark fact is that the social system, if unreformed, has no room for freedom at all."

"Individualism in its fullest gives to every individual the right to be himself or herself completely, and this government is so endeavoring to organize its material resources that the spiritual forces can have the fullest possible scope for expression, as is their justifiable due," Mr. Nash declared emphatically.

Branding as a libel upon the truth charges that the government's financial reforms had destroyed property, Mr. Nash said the contrary was the case. Reform was the parent of prosperity.

PROSPERITY THERE

"Out of the total revenue of New Zealand, nearly forty million pounds, slightly less than two million pounds is due to any increased rate that the government has imposed since it has been in office. All the remainder of the sum is due to the prosperity of the country," Mr. Nash submitted.

"Tax receipts are up. The unemployment tax is especially high. That is because the people are getting more wages. No one could grumble at that surely—that the people are getting more wages and therefore the taxation revenue, at the same rate of tax, is up."

"The highways tax is up because the people are using more petrol. That means that there are more motor cars. That means that there is more pleasure, more happiness, in the country. Do the defenders of the old order object to that?"

FENNSON FOR INVALIDS

Readily recognizing the premium now being paid by the government, Mr. Nash pointed out that invalids who previously received no pension now get none as do

FLOODS RECEDE BARING DAMAGE IN SOUTH STATES

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 12.—Flood waters receded in the southern United States Monday baring thousands of dollars damage to crops and property while Georgia counted 13 dead, Alabama two, and Mississippi two from rampaging streams.

In Alabama efforts were concentrated on aiding 3,000 evicted by high water. L. A. Edmonson estimated crop damage from floods in the Montgomery area alone would amount to $70,000 to $80,000. General planning operations were slowed by the rains of last week.

William Carl Hunt, Red Cross area director here, estimated Alabama's present disaster relief program, which included rehabilitation of victims of last week's tornado which killed 13 in Pickens county, Ala., would cost $50,000 to $60,000.

British Charges Political Desire In Oil Grabbing

MEXICO CITY, April 12.—British charged in a note made public last night that Mexico was motivated by "political desire" in expropriating the $400,000,000 foreign oil industry.

The note, presented the Mexican government last Friday by Graham S. Clark O'Malley, British minister to Mexico, demanded respect of the properties of British-owned companies taken over March 18. Substance of the note was given out in London on Friday.

Mr. O'Malley said he expected the Mexican government to reply today. It was believed generally Mexico would reject the protest.

wives whose husbands have deserted them. Defending measures designed to make the strongest supporters bear the brunt of taxation, Mr. Nash explained that the government believed in taxing the rich for the benefit of the whole community.

"If there are some persons or sections of the community that have more money than they require to build up a decent standard of living for themselves, according to their station in life, it is in the interests of the whole community for some of it to be taken by way of taxation and poured on to those who need it and who will spend it on consumable goods, thus stimulating the production of those goods that make life worthwhile," Mr. Nash concluded.

Aldermen Of Vancouver Hit Jap Business

VANCOUVER, April 12.—"We are selling our heritage in this province for a morsel of potato," declared H. D. Wilson at a city council meeting Monday as he sought unsuccessfully for the third time, to block granting a civic business licence to a Japanese.

Wilson urged "official penetration" of Vancouver's business area be halted but won the support of only one fellow councillor, H. J. de Graves.

Asamura de Graves declared he and Wilson would be in a position soon to divulge information on the subject which would "astonish" the citizens of Vancouver and put a little backbone in our elected representatives.

Broadway Theatrical Season Huge Success

Ethel Barrymore Returns For Finest Performance In Whitecoats

By MARK BARKER Associated Press Staff Writer NEW YORK, April 12.—This theatrical season finishes along Broadway as a successful, profitable one and with most of the hit plays playing virtuosos in the old-fashioned virtues.

In this corner's opinion: The best play of the season is "On Borrowed Time," Paul Os-born's dramatization of the Lawrence Edward Walker's novel.

The best performance is that of Ethel Barrymore as the 101-year-old grandmother in "Whitecoats," by Max De La Roche, Canadian writer.

Miss Barrymore, who has thrived on often to quit the stage, remains in the theatre, and happily so. In "Whitecoats" she is the congenial grandmother who humorously, tolerantly rules her almost impoverished grandchildren who spirit.

LANCOT OF QUEBEC WILL BE ARRESTED

Charges Against Former Attorney-General Remain Secret

By WILLIAM STEWART Canadian Press Staff Writer QUEBEC, April 12.—The little old man who resigned as Quebec's assistant attorney-general when investigators opened fire on the province's late Liberal regime, faced an arrest warrant last night as an outgrowth of public accounts committee revelations.

The name of Charles Lancelotti, K.C., was on the warrant sworn out on instructions from the department where he worked 41 years. But the charges against the frail and bearded 78-year-old septuagenarian lawyer remained a secret from all but police and government officials.

Premier Maurice Duplessis, whose legislative investigating committee is digging deeply into the financial history of the old government, would not say what the accusation was when he announced issuance of the warrant in the committee Monday. And police promptly clamped down a tight silence.

All Duplessis would say was that the warrant was based on evidence printed out by the committee and that it would be one of three arrests springing from disclosures made before the probing legislators. The Union Nationale premier would not name the other two persons, but said they would be arrested before the end of the week.

"There could be an arrest today and two others during the week," he asserted.

On top of this announcement, the premier declared Edouard Lacroix, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Beauce, would be "required" to make restitution to the province's treasury of money he is alleged to owe the government.

Progress and Industrial Reforms Delayed by Foreign Unions, Claim

CANUCK LABOR IS WEAKENED MOSHER SAYS

Powerful Influences At Work To Thwart Workers, President Says

LONDON, Ont., April 12.—Foreign-controlled craft unions have weakened the Canadian labor movement and delayed progress and industrial reforms, A. Mosher, president of the All-Canada Congress of Labor, Monday told the eighth annual convention of the congress here.

"Powerful influences are at work in Canada to rob us of our liberties and to forestall every effort to establish a more equitable social and economic order," Mr. Mosher said.

AGAIN ON INCREASE

"Unemployment is again on the increase, and unless some definite action is taken by our public authorities without delay we shall find ourselves in another major depression, with all its attendant hardships and suffering for hundreds of thousands of our people.

"The inability of the workers of Canada to use their political and economic strength effectively in an effort to ameliorate these conditions is the most serious aspect of the situation and is due to the weakness of the organized labor movement as the result of the position taken by foreign-controlled unions in this country.

NOT ORGANIZED

"We are confronted with the fact that only a small percentage of the workers in Canada are organized and that where organization does exist there is division between the so-called craft unions and the more modern industrial unions. The workers are also divided as between national and international unions and have the firm conviction that if Canadian workers were freed from the shackles of foreign-controlled unions, craft unions would largely disappear in Canada and a united movement, based on industrial organization, would be only possible in a very short time but there would be a tremendous increase in the number of workers organized."

OLLI BARLEY NOT ADMITTED FOR MALTING

Olli barley, the new early Finnish variety so much appreciated because of its advantage in fighting frost and wild oats, has for years past given high promise in experimental malting trials. It was hoped that it might be admitted this year to the malting grades, but according to a telegram from Dr. L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist, received by the superintendent of the Dominion experimental station here, dated April 7, the associate committee on grain research decided to defer its decision for one year pending commercial-scale trials by the Canadian Malting and Brewing Association. If possible, the association will purchase up to about 10,000 bushels of Olli barley for malting from the 1938 crop, paying the price of 8 C. W.

While many growers will be disappointed that a positive decision has not already been arrived at, it is to be considered that one or two varieties formerly accepted as suitable for malting have turned out to have certain defects from the malter's standpoint so that a policy of caution is perhaps justified.

Meanwhile a great many farmers who have demonstrated to their own satisfaction the adaptability of the variety will continue to grow it for feed purposes.

NEW TOMATO SEEN AS BOON EAST GROWERS

TORONTO, April 12.—John Janicki, 32-year-old suburban York township Ukrainian market gardener, claims he has perfected a new type tomato, known as the "Jan Rus," which the Toronto Globe and Mail says in a newspaper story will capture the British market this year.

The tomato was developed in collaboration with Robert Rumball, a supervisor of York township unemployed garden plots when Janicki was his experimenter in a tiny backyard greenhouse in 1936. The Jan Rus—named after his name—are said to retain their shape and color after canning and can be shipped a great distance without loss of the fruit.

L. F. Burrows, secretary of the Horticultural Society, said last week 50,000 cases of Jan Rus were expected to be shipped to the United Kingdom this year. Ontario growers will receive $100,000, it was estimated.

more, he let the engine out. Hamilton was still about a mile off, and around a sharp peninsula, the Empress was out of sight.

"We're almost there," Dick said, reassuringly. "We'll be at Mid-Ocean."

There was a jerk, a terrific jolting, and in that instant Joyce felt icy water surging up to her ankles.

Obadiah cried out pitifully. "We've struck, boat! We've struck!"

Now the water was pouring into the boat, its bottom ripped wide open. Dick had Joyce in his arms.

"We'll have to swim," he said quickly. "Back to that small reef we just passed. Don't be afraid, Joyce!" He pushed her, gently but surely, over the edge of the boat and into the water. "Come on, Obadiah. To the big reef."

"A . . ."

Now the three of them were in the water, and Dick was swimming ahead, hoping to see the darker outline they had passed by a moment before. In the blackness it was practically invisible. Joyce and the pale man swam after him, close at his heels. The current, she noticed, was running strongly against them.

Strangely, now that the worst had happened, she was no longer afraid. The one misery which loomed above all others was that her lovely white dress, with its glamorous feather sleeves, was completely and unalterably ruined.

As Obadiah fought his way alongside of her, moaned sorrowfully each time he took a breath. "Man, boat! Goddamnit, avast! avast!"

Ahead of them, Dick cried out. "Here's the reef. Straight ahead. Then he turned back to the others, guiding them to it.

A moment later they were standing on it, three lone, bedraggled figures in an open expanse of black water.

Dick looked down at the sorry figure of Joyce. Even in the darkness he could see the outline of her dress, clinging to her wet arms. She looked for all the world like a poor, shivering dog picked out of a flood.

"You poor child!" he said contritely. "I got you into this."

He still wore his white tie and tunic, in his anxiety to get back to this reef he had not even slipped off his coat.

"We'll have to about, Obadiah. We'll have to about with our hands, as one of the other boats will pick us up. It's too long a swim to Hamilton, and we couldn't fight the current back to the ship."

"Yessuh," Obadiah agreed helplessly. His eyes still lay on the white where his boat was being slowly swept to the bottom of the harbor.

So they lay there, the three now on reef, and they shouted. One at a time they called out, then all three together. But long minutes passed, and their cries brought no response from the surrounding darkness.

Now Joyce could feel the black waters licking at her feet, and she remembered Obadiah saying that the tide was low. She wondered how much higher it would rise, yet she did not dare put the question into words.

Two hours.

More dry from useless shouting, they were still standing there, and now the water was up to their knees. Off in the distance they could hear the occasional plop-plop of other motorboats, but none came this way.

Suddenly, despite their tired throats, they began to sing silly little jingles, remembering the words carefully, to keep her mind from thoughts of devilfish, with greedy tentacles.

They sang, out on open water under the stars.

Ministers of Gospel Are Playing Political Hands

By The Canadian Press

New Brunswick doesn't want clergymen in its legislature, but any minister who seeks a direct hand in legislation elsewhere in Canada may try for election in any of the eight other provinces or run for the House of Commons.

An old clause barring clergymen for membership was retained Saturday by the New Brunswick legislature in considering a proposed new Elections Act.

Ottawa clergymen are Rev. Daniel McIvor (Lib., Fort William), United Church; Rev. Ernest G. Hansell (S.C., Macleod), United Church; and Rev. Thomas C. Douglas (C.C.P., Weyburn), Baptist.

Alberta's legislature leads the list with six, all Social Crediters. They are Rev. N. E. Thompson, minister of lands and mines, and Hon. Solon Low, provincial treasurer, both school teachers, by profession, but bishops in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints; Rev. Peter Dawson, speaker, and Rev. Roy Taylor, deputy speaker, both United Church; Rev. W. A. Waples (Wesleyan), Swedish Baptist, and Rev. I. M. McCune (Gleichen), Church of the Brethren.

Ontario and British Columbia also have clergymen in the legislature.

Definite Political Action by Canadian Labor Congress Suggested

LABOR PARTY FORMATIONS SEEN LIKELY

Workers Feel Must Make Own Move to Bring About Economic Changes

LONDON, Ont., April 12.—Definite political action by the all-Canadian Congress of Labor was suggested in the report to the executive board of the congress presented at the eighth regular convention which opened Monday.

The report said the congress is associated with any political party and adds:

"If however, workers find that they cannot induce any existing party to bring about such changes in the economic situation as will meet the needs of the people, they will undoubtedly be forced to establish a labor party on the basis of their economic organization."

SURVEY RESOURCES

The report recommends also: Survey of natural resources, physical equipment, railways and man power of the dominion to ascertain the correct standard of living and what means should be adopted to attain that standard.

Opposition to railway amalgamation.

Protection of railways from unfair competition from other means of transport.

FEDERAL RESPONSIBILITY

Affirmed relief and unemployment was a Dominion government responsibility and the government should provide work not relief.

Urged pressure on provincial governments to bring about an agreement to amend the British North America Act, but reiterated the belief that Dominion government should go ahead with the plan if a majority of the provinces are in favor.

Urged non-contributory unemployment insurance, or at least low-wage workers be exempted from payment of premiums.

Urged provision for health insurance, including medical care and hospitalization as a Dominion responsibility.

Mosher Scores

Government Apathy

LONDON, Ont., April 12.—R. Mosher, president of the All-Canada Congress of Labor, told the eighth annual convention tonight that the government is not attacking the system and the apathy of the government.

The time "has come for more progressive action to remove those things which stand in the way of a more abundant life for all," Mr. Mosher said.

He directed news reports the executive board of the congress is urging political action.

DEVICE HUSHES PLANE MOTORS

MONTREAL, Can., April 12.—American gnat bombing planes and dive bombers may have one more great advantage over the "polish" of the enemy.

A "super-silent" engine invented by Sgt. Frank Newton of the Canadian Department of the Motor Press.

Tests just made of the "super-silent" engine have demonstrated that it will cut off entirely the noise of the engine.

Army tests just made of the "super-silent" engine have demonstrated that it will cut off entirely the noise of the engine.

Patents for the exclusive army use of the exhaust have been taken out by the adjutant-general of the army at Washington.

The exhaust silencer is based on the principle of physics that a vacuum will not transmit sound.

The device itself is a simple affair, consisting of a straight pipe leading from the motor to a metal box through which run short pipes carrying rushing currents of air caused by the speeding airplane or car.

The air rushing through the pipes causes a vacuum in the metal box thus choking off the sound.

Army officials at the Presidio here say that the tests made especially on the motors of the latest bombing planes at Bolling Field, Washington, have demonstrated that the new type exhaust in no way affects the power of the motor.

Sgt. Newton, who is responsible for the invention, is 40 and has served in the army for 15 years in the Philippines and China for 13 years.

Atlantic Coast Defence Is Declared Important

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Maurice Byrnes, of Norfolk, Va., chairman of the technical committee of the National Coast Defence Association, said Monday the United States Atlantic coast must have "adequate defenses as well as the Pacific coast."

Tracing the difficulties which would be encountered in bringing the fleet east if the Panama canal were blocked by an enemy, Byrnes suggested to the United States senate naval committee that the proposed Nicaraguan canal would

Army tests just made of the "super-silent" engine have demonstrated that it will cut off entirely the noise of the engine.

Patents for the exclusive army use of the exhaust have been taken out by the adjutant-general of the army at Washington.

The exhaust silencer is based on the principle of physics that a vacuum will not transmit sound.

The device itself is a simple affair, consisting of a straight pipe leading from the motor to a metal box through which run short pipes carrying rushing currents of air caused by the speeding airplane or car.

The air rushing through the pipes causes a vacuum in the metal box thus choking off the sound.

Army officials at the Presidio here say that the tests made especially on the motors of the latest bombing planes at Bolling Field, Washington, have demonstrated that the new type exhaust in no way affects the power of the motor.

Sgt. Newton, who is responsible for the invention, is 40 and has served in the army for 15 years in the Philippines and China for 13 years.

Mystery Airplanes In North Australia

CANBERRA, Australia, April 12.—Australia's "mystery planes" remain a mystery. The hunt which has been conducted along the littoral of Northern Australia, to discover the origin of the planes which have been sighted recently flying over Northern Australia, has so far yielded no results.

The Commonwealth wireless there to make a report. Air Vice-Marshal Richard Williams, chief of staff of the Royal Australian Air Force, took part in the investigations. He intended to leave for Singapore, but diverted his course, and reconnoitered the Bathurst and Melville Islands, off the North Australian coast, as well as hundreds of miles of uninhabited littoral.

According to reliable witnesses, three mystery planes have been seen in the area since October, including two last week. All lately coupled in the northern territory of Australia. There have been notified concerning the search and have been asked for information.

F.D.R. ADVISES HOUSE SOLVE RAIL PROBLEM

Immediate Legislation Said Necessary To Prevent Bankruptcies

WASHINGTON, April 12.—President Roosevelt Monday told congress in effect, to figure out for itself how to cure the ills of the $21,000,000 railroad network of the United States.

He refrained from sending any recommendations of his own as he delivered a mass of suggestions from his advisers. He suggested it would be the part of "common sense" to consider the several federal agencies dealing with transportation into two, one handling executive functions, and the other all activities of a judicial, or legislative character.

ALL CO-OPERATE

He declared it was "more important for all of us to co-operate in preventing serious bankruptcies among a large number of railroad companies, great and small."

Some of the recommendations Mr. Roosevelt submitted were summarized as follows:

FOR IMMEDIATE RELIEF:

1.—That approximately $300,000 be made available from government funds for the purchase of railroad equipment, the equipment to be security for the advance.

2.—That other forms of government credit be considered from the point of view of public policy.

3.—That government traffic pay the full rate by eliminating land grant concessions. (As a means of eliminating railroad bankruptcies, the government gave tracts of land to the roads, in return for a stipulation that government freight troops, etc., be transported at reduced rates.)

FOR LONG TERM

1.—That a federal transportation authority be created for two years to plan and promote action by railroad companies to eliminate waste and consolidation and co-ordination.

2.—That the Interstate Commerce Act be amended to broaden the powers of the commission with respect to pooling of earnings of traffic, to eliminate the "consolidation plan" and to approve unification.

3.—That the authority investigate economy and all types of transportation, encourage special fitness and able destructive competition.

4.—That attention be given to the financial abuses now under investigation.

ISLAND OF IRON NEAR AUSTRALIA

PERTH, Australia, April 12.—Plans now are complete for the production of 1,000,000 tons of iron ore at Koolan Island, Yampi Sound, by a local company in which Japan is interested.

The whole of the output is to be shipped to Japan. H. E. Wall, the managing director, states that the plant embodies the most modern methods introduced in Australia.

The project presents unique engineering problems, the foundations for the machinery and housing equipment have to be blasted out of a solid rock.

In designing a jety and loading device to handle 2,000 tons an hour, the engineers have to contend with a variation in tide levels of 28 feet.

Coogan Sues Mother and Stepfather—Says Broke

Jackie Wants $400,000 He Earned While Child

Film Star

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—Jackie Coogan, the "Kid" of the silent screen, filed suit against his mother and stepfather, demanding their turn over to him $400,000 worth of property and assets he earned as a film star.

Coogan, now 23, set forth that he was "virtually broke," dependent upon his small earnings in occasional pictures. His mother, he charged, was under the undue influence of her present husband, Arthur L. Bernstein.

Coogan's father was killed in an automobile crash in 1933. Jackie was married recently to Betty Grable, film actress. Superior Judge Emmet Wilson appointed a temporary receiver for Coogan's assets and those of his mother and Bernstein and set April 20 as date for a hearing.

U.S. Workers In Service May Be Barred Politics

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A bill designed to keep United States government workers out of political conventions held an unexpected place at the top of the senate calendar today, despite objections of Democratic leader Burkeley of Kentucky.

The measure, which Senator Hatch, Dem., New Mexico, has been advocating for a year, would exclude federal employees from party caucuses, precinct, county or state conventions that nominate a president, vice president or members of congress.

Hatch, normally an administration supporter, declared the top-ranking government officials have the power to "pack a national convention."

TRANS-CANADA'S NEW LOCKHEADS RECEIVE TESTS

WINNIPEG, April 12.—Initial test flights of the first two of 10 Lockheed "14" monoplanes built by Trans-Canada Air Lines will be made today at Burbank, California, before members of T.C.A. personnel who will pilot the machines to Vancouver after satisfactory completion of the tests.

With a 230-mile-an-hour top speed and a cruising speed of 220, the new Trans-Canada aircraft are classed among the fastest airplanes on the continent. They boast luxurious accommodations for 11 passengers, as well as space for the crew of three.

The fuel capacity of 344 gallons permits a cruising range of 1,875 miles from the two Pratt & Whitney motors. The wing span of 60 feet, six inches is approximately 10 feet greater than that of the Electra in which pilots are now conducting experimental flights across western Canada.

Forty-four feet, four inches, is the overall length and, fully loaded, will weigh 17,500 pounds.

"Well-Groomed" Means Watching Every Detail

By ALICIA HART

The new Easter suit and other spring ensembles that you like so much and which are so flattering right now, deserve constant regular, intelligent care. Just as a house that is not kept constantly repaired quickly deteriorates, the point of looking like a tumble-down shack, so clothes soon lose their luster.

You should work even harder at keeping your skin shape and color. You did at selecting it, getting the right blouse to wear with it and so on. If it isn't perfect enough, the slight bulge in the seat of it will become a permanent bulge. If it didn't come equipped with little ribbon loops, one on each side of the inside of the skirt band, sew these in yourself. Then be sure always to hang it up by BOTH of them. If you don't your hemline never will be one hundred per cent straight.

One who doesn't send her clothes to the cleaner or clean them herself quite often than just doesn't deserve to have anything to wear. Nothing shortens the life of any dress more quickly than an accumulation of dirt and grime. Furthermore, if you do not use an anti-permanent regularly, your must have dress shies itself in every costume.

Just as perfection of detail makes an outfit truly smart, so the perfection of the smallest detail ruins an otherwise nice costume. The veil that is over so slightly torn makes the handiwork look cheap and shoddy. The white blouse that isn't pure white appears the effect of any suit, regardless of how well tailored that suit is.

Keep a small brush, designed especially to clean suits, in a handy place. And never put on a pair of suede shoes or start out with a suede bag until you have used it on them. The best brush offered is a must. Show traces like the foot-shaped ones your husband puts in your shoes. Shoulder-shoulder hangers are necessary, too. It's not possible to go to town and keep your gear clean.

What To Do

As an office, what is the correct way of presenting a visitor to your employer?—(a) when the visitor is an acquaintance of his or her own, the visitor is a stranger. Thank you.

MISS C. W.

Answer—A girl in an office does not often find herself in the position of presenting a caller to her employer. She first takes the name or card of the person calling and inquires whether her employer wishes to see him. If so, she returns to the caller and says "My employer will see you in his office. This is all the introduction she need make—it is then up to the two men to exchange greetings. She never need introduce an acquaintance of her employer to him. It is very necessary for her to introduce a visitor, then it would be courteous to assume that the visitor was more interested in and to present her employer to the visiting person.

DOROTHY DIX Says:

DEAR MISS DIX—I love my mother-in-law. She is a peach. It is fun being with her for sport, entertainment, drive and even live with me and I have never seen her. Her whole life is a story. This is the way we have pulled it off. When she is at our house the place is her own. She cooks and puts to her heart's content and when she goes I put things to rights and all is well. I prize her cooking and show appreciation of her help. I make her feel that she is an honored guest. In return she helps her heart and home to get, confidence in me, encourages me and treats me as a daughter. I only hope when I have a mother-in-law that I treat my daughter-in-law as she treats me.

A DAUGHTER-IN-LAW WHO LINKS IT.

Answer:—

One would think that there were more young ladies who followed your example, for when the mother-in-law and daughter-in-law don't get along together it is usually a Nifty-Nifty proposition in which the young couple is at much to blame as the older one.

Granted that there are too many socialistic mothers who can't bear to give their sons up to any other woman, there are an equal number of girls who set out marriage with a chip on their shoulders for their husbands' mothers and are ready to fight at the drop of a hat. They show no sympathy or understanding for the older women. They flaunt their power over their husbands in their hands. They make no effort to get on with them. And they regret every suggestion that they make as a deadly insult.

Every mother knows that whether she keeps her son or loses him when he marries depends entirely upon his wife's attitude toward her. She is the only one in this world who can make or mar the relationship between her husband's mother and her son. It is her duty to discover fault in nothing that he never perceived before. Besides, men don't like feminine will and women, as if wife and mother quarrel and if wife is ever willing to go to mother's or have her come on a visit, it is not long before Mother virtually passes out of the picture.

The young woman may think this a triumph, but it is a hollow victory to her to be in the house for the sake of peace, he never fails to resent it in his secret heart. His love for his mother is at the very root of his being and a wife and mother who quarrel and if wife is ever willing to go to mother's or have her come on a visit, it is not long before Mother virtually passes out of the picture.

The mother-in-law and daughter-in-law relationship can be a very beautiful and helpful one to both and it is a pity that more women have not intelligence enough and good feeling enough, to cultivate it.

DOROTHY DIX.

According To Culbertson

By ELY CULBERTSON

In yesterday's column I outlined the method of the five-card bridge. Also, I stated my opinion that this new game, while undoubtedly interesting, cannot supplant contract. But I urge my readers to try out five-card bridge, if only for the sake of novelty. Culbertson players will find that they are particularly fortunate in that their bidding system can be adapted to five-card bridge, with only a few painful changes. For the past month I have been hard at work codifying the other system, and very shortly will be able to present a scientifically accurate and simple Culbertson system for five-card bridge.

I am repaid to be inordinately contented, and probably am, yet I do not think myself genius enough to follow the example of several "authorities" who, with unparalleled ability, had books written and on sale before the great war, and before they themselves had played as many as five rubber bridge. Lamb Chops Gambol Over Spring Greens

Bulletin Patterns

By Anne Adams

By Mrs. GAYNOR MADDOX

Lamb chops are always good. But in spring time the season has even more tender and delicate flavor.

Billy, the veterinarian, a New York restaurant proprietor who swins a wicked smile when it comes to his food, says that a few hints on making the most of the domestic lamb.

"For some consumption," he said, "select lamb chops that come from the middle of the lamb. You know these are slightly more expensive, but the proportion of meat to bone is much higher and they actually make them more economical. I definitely prefer the loin to the neck and the neck to the lamb."

"However, I realize that most people will prefer rib chops. This is because the meat is more delicate and finer grained."

He explained that the meat of the rib chops is slightly more tender, but the proportion of meat to bone is much higher and they actually make them more economical. I definitely prefer the loin to the neck and the neck to the lamb."

"On rib chops the fat and gristle should be trimmed off. Two single chops or one double chop is the usual individual serving."

As for loin chops, they can be cooked in any desired thickness. A loin chop one inch thick is quite substantial. Loin chops are not trimmed but left as they are. Our authority insists that broiling is the best way of cooking chops.

"Have meat cooked about 15 minutes, 5 minutes to each side. A double chop will require 18 to 20 minutes, and should be turned over once during the cooking."

TROCHIT, April 12—In farewell to Mr. and Mrs. S. Killington, who, with their family, are leaving about for Oregon, where they will make their home in the future, several parties have been arranged in their honor. Members of the Elks lodge were hosts at a banquet in their honor and, following a short program, Mr. Killington was the recipient of a flag, presented to him by Mr. W. Stewart on behalf of the lodge. Mr. Killington was made the recipient of a lovely linen table cloth, worn by members of the Elks lodge. S. Paul's church entertained in her honor at a delightful afternoon reception.

Well, here I am, all dressed up in a flapper suit, and my new dress is on account of my new dress. I don't want to go to work in a flapper suit, but I don't want to go to work in a flapper suit.

Edmonton's Finest Men's Wear Store Invites You!

AND HAS PLANNED MANY INTERESTING FEATURES FOR YOUR VISIT

Cook Imports Scotch Tweed Twice Yearly

When the well-dressed man selects his suit he looks for two things—quality materials and quality tailoring. But that need no longer be a problem, for now he can have the advantage of other men's experience in selecting quality materials and designing and producing quality tailoring.

The Scotch Tweeds featured by Dittrich Clothes Shop have been especially chosen by Warren K. Cook, president and buyer for the Cook Clothing Company, who twice each year, travels to Scotland to make a personal choice of materials. While in the Old Country Mr. Cook stops in at London to get the latest designs in men's clothes. These fabrics and designs are then featured in the men's suits made by the Cook Clothing Company, whose Edmonton representative is Dittrich's.

A race was run in Australia between an antich and a horse.

Progress Brand Proves Popular Among City Men

Since 1928 Canadians have been wearing Progress Brand fine tailored clothes. This brand has been exceptionally popular, especially among men who take a pride in their appearance. Dittrich has found them one of their fastest selling brands.

London's 50 automatic telephone exchanges cover 220,000 lines.

Tailoring Tradition Is Prized Reputation In Dittrich Clothing

Opening his own business at 10164 101 street under the name of Dittrich Clothes Shop in 1933, Ernest Dittrich, one of Edmonton's young businessmen, is carrying on a tradition in tailoring that has made the family famous in the trade here since 1898.

Taking over a five-story store on First street Mr. Dittrich found that in the following year the steady increase in business demanded more extensive premises. So he took over what is now the rear portion of his present store.

CHANGES MADE
With trade still flourishing, the young Stathcona-born merchant recently undertook further changes in the store, moving the tailoring room upstairs to provide more accommodation on the main floor. Displays have been rearranged, the premises renovated and decorated and other improvements made. And today the Dittrich Clothes Shop presents an attractive business house catering to all classes, providing a fine at fair prices and regarding quality as the keynote of the clothing trade.

Associated with his father for many years, Ernest served his apprenticeship in the trade in his father's South Side shop. After obtaining a wide and trained knowledge of tailoring, Ernest branched out to develop a business career of his own.

Before opening his own store in the downtown section, the young craftsman was connected with several well-known tailoring firms in the city, including Robinson Clothier, of which he was manager from 1929 to 1932.

BETTER SERVICE
"That's why we have had to make extensive changes in the store," Mr. Dittrich explained. "The substantial advance in business made it necessary for us to make alterations with a view to providing a better display and giving the shopping public more efficient service."

An idea of the amount of merchandise carried by Dittrich Clothes Shop may be obtained from the fact that the store has a stock of 1,200 suits—one of the largest stocks of its kind in the city. The store also shows a varied line of sportswear, the prospective buyer being given a choice among 300 coats.

Dittrich Clothes Shop specializes in types. Experienced tailors provide the nearest fit possible for the customer, regardless of his build. All merchandise in the store is union-made—a fact that Mr. Dittrich is proud to mention.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

It's Red Hot
Plenty Tough
Beware Pooches!

FIGHT editor goes to Toronto again and to Edmonton in June. Today with clatter on the stage of western Jack Tebo, the rugged heavy from Vancouver, can blast out a victory over Eddie Wenzel, the Viking light-heavy who ranks as the southern champion in his division. Wenzel has already been laid left and right. Generally speaking, most of the betting has been at even money.

It is by long odds the fight time at Edmonton has been over a decade—in fact it is doubtful if the town ever had a battle in which so much bitter rivalry was concerned.

With Wenzel's management already signed, it is now up to Jack Carrigan, Tebo's manager, to complete the contract for the Edmonton Boxing Commission. There seems no chance of him falling in with his situation when he arrives from Fairview today since he has been fighting for this bout for nearly two years.

Right now the battle seems a question of whether or not Tebo has the requisite power to knock his opponent. Wenzel's striking makes no mistake about it. Wenzel is a good boxer and a very well conditioned fighter. He has fought a number of times and has won most of them. He is a very good boxer and a very well conditioned fighter. He has fought a number of times and has won most of them.

On the other hand, Tebo has a lot of experience and a lot of power. He is a very good boxer and a very well conditioned fighter. He has fought a number of times and has won most of them.

It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight. It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight. It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight.

This Battler Is Plenty Tough

Don't underestimate this Tebo. There have been few fighters in the D'Amore training camp who were as powerful as this one. It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight. It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight.

What is more, Tebo is a champion who it comes to boxing ability. In support of this you have only to consider the fact that he has won two rounds of the fight with the four in eight days, without getting as much as a cut from the blows. No other white fighter has ever stayed that long in the championship training camp. Tebo is a champion who it comes to boxing ability.

There is more news in Tebo than in a point fight. This is a number one news-bait that should be something new every day. Take for instance yesterday morning when he was out doing road work with a bunch of boys. Running around the city in the crisp dawn light enough to suit him. He seemed to be in the mood to show up the boys.

"Say that guy ran down at least half a dozen poodles and finished up as fresh as a daisy," Jack testified. "Can you beat it? No I figure I'm doing pretty fair when I tick off my regular mileage without trying to win a hundred or so for fun."

Tebo's training camp is a very close fight. It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight. It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight. It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight.

Amateurs Prepare for Ponoka Meet

B. R. HEADLEY of Ponoka is in the city yesterday and he brought a number of boys to the city. He is a very good boxer and a very well conditioned fighter. He has fought a number of times and has won most of them.

The Ponoka group is being headed by an experienced group which was in the city yesterday. It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight. It is a very close fight and it is a very close fight.

Toronto Ring Dukes Back Up On N.B. Puncher

TORONTO, April 12.—Young Ray McIntyre, up-and-coming boxer in mid-March and which resulted in nine straight sell-outs at the local arena but which ended away after the local team was knocked out of the playoffs was raging here again today.

Early Monday evening, risk officials stated there was no doubt the "R.I.C." sign would be hung up before the first game in the Allan cup final starts here Wednesday night. Ticket sale opened Monday and already more than 10,000 tickets have been taken and phone reservations and letters continue to pour in from every part of the province, which will witness its first Allan cup final when Trail Smoke Eaters and Cornwall Flyers clash on Wednesday.

McIntyre was "champion" long after winning with efforts of the Ontario Amateur Commission at the rinkside, Jack Corcoran, promoter of the show in Maple Leaf Gardens, stated the rink to be a crowded house. McIntyre was in the fight for the first time in a long while.

Corcoran said it had been stipulated in the fight contracts that the fight would not change hands.

McIntyre defeated the challenger, Bill Gaudin, 150 pounds.

In a semi-final bout, Indian Queens of New York defeated the Ontario team, 10-0.

Battle Scared Hawks Finally Start Game At Head of Betting; Rated 13-10 With Hockey Way

CHICAGO, April 12.—Chicago finally got around today to installing the feared Black Hawks, who have elaborated somewhat on Red Dutton's famous "keep-punching" cry, as favorites to win the Stanley cup. It was bound to happen some time as long as they kept pulling surprises from the National hockey league playoff hat.

As the regular season drew to a close, three weeks ago, Chicago fans were pleasantly surprised to find that their team was the favorite to win the Stanley cup, though they made it backwards—by Detroit's ability to win. And Bill Stewart's veterans went on without a break.

ONLY ONE WAY
They were only one victory from the cup today, leading the one-favored Toronto Maple Leafs two games to one in the last-offense series resuming tonight. Not once have Hawks, overcoming injuries and substitutions, beaten the veteran stars, stalling as favorites against the National league champions.

So Sunday night's victory, taken after Leeds for the third straight time, shot the first goal inside two minutes, brought much needed relief for the Hawks chances. Betting houses here quoted them 13-10 favorites to succeed Detroit. Red Wings as world professional champions.

There was gloom in the Maple Leaf camp. Displeased by the work of one goal judge and the penalty timekeeper Sunday night, Manager Conny Smythe telegraphed President Frank Calder at Montreal asking that new minor officials from New York be appointed for the fourth game.

JUDICIAL AS FAULTY
Smythe found fault with the goal judge, flashing the light on Doc Bonney, winning goal late in the third period Sunday night. He also was displeased about a penalty Red Hunter received in the first period for returning two men from serving one penalty. The Leaf manager claimed Hunter had been sent out by the timekeeper.

From Monday's game there was a change over the roughness of the Chicago's first period. Nor were there any new injuries. The crashing sticks worked in 20 minutes of the wildest hockey of the playoffs.

Time Out — By Chet Smith

HENRY PICARD (Swings for manufacturer.) HARRY COOPER (Carves his name on ball.) RALPH GULDAHL (Puts for his factory.)

Manufacturers' Warfare Threatens Professional Golf Tournaments

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—Now that the playing professionals have ended another long winter tour, and returned to their respective clubs, those closest to the situation are wondering just where a manufacturers' war is leading them.

At least one prominent official of the Professional Golfers' Association says that the commercial ties of the foremost shotmakers threaten important tournaments in which they take part.

The game's greatest players are subsidized by factories, and their principal business is to promote sales. That, when Henry Picard aimed to win the Masters' Open at Augusta, he was pledged to do or die for dear old Pith-Ten-Up Close Bros. Picard is a member of the exclusive three rival groups. Trained with him is a blind Craig Wood. The Chocolate Soldier just about saved his equity in the Masters, by the way, for Wood had an off season.

Ralph Gulda, on the other hand, is paid to see that Swat-Ball-A-Mile & Co. get none the worst of things. The United States Open champion belongs to one of the larger cliques, which includes Detroit's State, Sam Sneed, Johnny Bolvoita, Gene Sarazen, Jug McSpadden, and Jimmy Hines.

Harry Cooper represents Putt & Hole Out, Inc. Also working in this outfit's interests are such luminaries as Bobby Jones, Horton Smith, Paul Runyan, Jimmy Thompson, Lawson Little, and Sam Parks.

IT'S CLOSE RACE
Gulda and Cooper tied for second in the Masters, two strokes back of Picard, and Runyan was fourth, which is a good illustration of how closely the factions fight it out.

Sharks with the potent punch, pretty pitch, and touch technique are the retailers' lucky equipment holders. Each major victory brings $10,000 or more to them from their sponsors. The more they win, the more their names mean on balls and clubs.

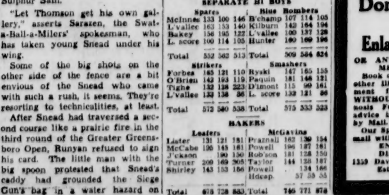

The combinations stick together like fraternity brothers. The Swat-Ball-A-Mile men do nothing to hinder the Pith-Ten-Up Close Bros. boys. The Pith-Ten-Up Close Bros. kids barely speak to the Putt & Hole Outers.

For example, Sneed picked up and stormed off the course in the third round of the Greater Greenbore Open. The incredible hill-billy explains that he had grown tired of being bracketed with Thomas, whose extra die deliberation in recent months would have made the slow game Sneed had grounded his legs some years ago.

SNEAD DOES DAMAGE
But the truth really might have been that Sneed swung madly, much of Thomas' long-driving thunder. The Swat-Ball-A-Mile didn't care to have Thomas of the Putt & Hole Outers trailing along and reflecting in the glory of Swat-Ball-A-Mile.

Let Thomas get his own gallery, asserts Shamus, the Swat-Ball-A-Mile spokesman, who has taken young Sneed under his wing.

Oshawa Too Pans Winnipeg Referees

Eastern Coach Asks N.H.L. Referees Be Appointed: McBride, of Winnipeg, Causes Main East "Kick"

TORONTO, April 12.—A big push, instigated by Oshawa Generals, was under way last night to have the referees changed for tonight's Memorial cup hockey game against St. Boniface.

Considering Oshawa won the first game of the best-of-five series here Saturday, 3-0, the demand was unusual. Even more strange was the fact that the referees were the same as in the first game.

Bob McBride of Winnipeg and Hal Stoughton of Oshawa. Usually any squabbling about officiating originates in the losers' camp. Hal Stoughton, manager of the Manitoba team, declared last Monday his players were satisfied with the officiating. "In fact, it was excellent," he asserted.

McBride is the main bone of contention. The Generals maintain it was unethical for one who had officiated in St. Boniface games during the regular season to participate in the current series.

Officials of the Ontario Hockey Association look up the matter with Cecil Duncan, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, at Oshawa. The O.H.A. suggested two National league players, however be conscripted, officiate. Aside from the officiating, Oshawa's coach, Doc Rowden, has another worry—that of filling Dan McBride's place. This study deservance was eliminated from further competition when he fractured his wrist in the first three minutes of play Saturday night.

Rowden is expected back from his wing position to fill the breach, but Rowden is not to be leaving with the idea of giving Jack Calhoun a chance on the rearward. Calhoun had not seen service for several weeks.

Dr. Hardy On Way East For Meeting
EDMONTON, April 12.—Dr. W. C. Hardy, vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, left here last night for Oshawa to attend the annual meeting of the association opening April 14.

HARRY VARDON'S WILL
LONDON.—Harry Vardon, famous golfer who died a year ago last month, left an estate of £1,000,000. The widow was bequeathed an annuity of £60,000 and the house and furniture.
